

Among other things Journal on Efficiency and Responsibility in Education and Science also publishes extended versions of conference papers.

What to do?

1. Extend the conference paper by at least 30% (mainly in results section).
 2. Paper must have different title and abstract.
 3. Paper must contain reference on conference paper that is extended and clearly expresses how it is extended.
 4. Manuscript must respect the instructions for authors of the ERIES Journal.
 5. Submit the paper to <http://www.eriesjournal.com/>.
 6. Pass the double blind review.

ERIES Journal does not charge either submission or publication fee.

Journal on Efficiency and Responsibility in Education and Science

The aim of the journal is extended from „Education” to „Education and Science” in order to compare and enhance the ways of efficiency measurement and the reflection of responsibility criteria in more scientific disciplines, particularly in:

- theory and methodology of pedagogy and education;
- theory and methodology of science;
- human resources and human relations management;
- knowledge management and knowledge engineering;
- systems engineering and information engineering - applications in education and/or science;
- quantitative methods for education and/or science.
